We create one of the largest European tech incubators, open it up to founders, student initiatives and invite external companies

The Collective Incubator brings students, researchers and companies together

The Collective Incubator is the central hotspot for university start-ups in Aachen

The Collective Incubator unites and supports with infrastructure

Stepstones

The Collective Incubator has become a central project of RWTH Aachen University in recent years and will become one of the largest tech incubators in Europe in the near future

Modern premises of different types offer the starting point for building a community and for creative and efficient collaboration

Space

17 permanent offices available for start-ups over a period of one year

8 conference rooms for start-ups, student initiatives and projects and over 70 flex desks

Over 1,000 m² workshop area for metal, plastic, wood, electronics, textile and 3D printing

A fully equipped film studio and podcast studio for your own productions

The Collective Incubator is available to student initiatives and start-ups of RWTH Aachen University and FH Aachen free of charge and around the clock.
